WE WELCOME ALEX KHAN

By Carl Burton

We welcome Alex Khan. Alex will be happy to answer any questions you may have about the California Congressional Victory team effort and what the CCV is doing to help elect Republican candidates to the state legislature and to Congress.

Alex is currently located at the Sacramento County Republican Central Committee office, 9851 Horn Rd., Suite 160, Sacramento, 95827.

Alex was born in Sacramento.. He started in politics at age 11, volunteering for Doug Ose's congressional race. Later, he worked on several campaigns in high school including Doug Ose, Dave Cox, and Roger Niello. He served as Roger Niello's appointee to the Sacramento County Youth Commission.

SOME LATE NIGHT JOKES:

Jay Leno:

President Obama spent about four hours on Father's Day playing golf at a country club in Chicago. It was his 100th round of golf since taking office. He's played more golf than Tiger Woods in the last four years.

Actually, Obama's staff is a little concerned. They're concerned all this golf is cutting into his fund-raising.

President Obama is going to let certain illegal immigrants stay in this country. But there is an age requirement. You have to be old enough to vote by November.

Jimmy Fallon:

That's right, 100 rounds of golf since being elected. It was weird when Obama asked his caddie for a recommendation and he was like, "Uhh, don't play so much golf?"

RRC WINNERS

State Assembly:

President:

Mitt Romney

Congratulations to all the candidates who ran and now it's on to November for those who won in their districts. As always we will work hard to help them.

HOW WE CAN HELP MITT ROMNEY WIN

By Carl Burton

Here are my suggestions for how we can help Mitt Romney win and put people back to work:

1. Remember that this is an election about jobs and the economy.
2. Try and force Democrats to explain Obama's record of economic failure.
3. Don't attack Obama personally.
4. Leave social issues out of the campaign.
5. Keep asking Reagan's question, "Are you better off now then you were four years ago?"

When bad news comes, President Obama always points a finger at President Bush and says its his fault. Just remember, Mr. Obama has been President for over forty months and is responsible for this long recession and why people are hurting is because his policy of big government just doesn't work Recall him saying "there were no shovel ready jobs."

As we talk to our friends and neighbors, remind them that we are passing on trillions of dollars of debt to their children and grandchildren.

The November election is a critical decision for the future of the United States. This is a campaign that must be won in the homes and hearts of all Americans.

I'm sure as a member of Republicans of River City and as an American you will do your part to help ensure victory.

OBAMA'S WAR ON THE MIDDLE CLASS AND PROSPERITY

By Carl Burton

President Obama has declared war on the middle class by threatening massive new tax hikes on all Americans (born and unborn).

ABC News is reporting that over 900,000 small business will be effected by Obama's idea of raising taxes on those making over $250,000 per year. This will hit small businesses especially hard because they file tax returns as individuals.

And let's not forget the new Obamacare tax is laying 75% of all the costs on the backs of the middle class by taxing those making less the $125,000 per year. I believe President Obama and his administration is going mad with taxation.

It's your children that will pay the Obamacare tax which will add over $1.7 trillion to the national debt over the next ten years.

It seem President Obama's only solution for his administrations massive government spending is to tax the so-called rich. The problem is even if you tax at a rate of 100% on the "1%" it wouldn't even put a dent into our current federal deficit, let alone the staggering national debt.

Do you think the Obama Administration is trying to destroy the free-market system as we know it in the United States of American? Or has President Obama simply broken his oath of office to defend the general welfare of the nation with his tax policy.

JULY 4 IN RANCHO CORDOVA

By Carl Burton

The Republicans of River City had a successful booth at the July 3 – 4 Independence Day Celebrations in Rancho Cordova. We passed out literature about our Republican candidates for the November election and we registered Republican voters.

Each Republican who registered to vote also received a Romney bumper sticker.

Our booth was one of the best decorated booths at the event. Our theme was Red, White and Blue. Bob Evans and Colleen Fitzpatrick help to decorate and sit-up the booth.

Special thanks to Pat Camper, Bob Evans, Lisa Garcia, and Fred and Pat Hilbrand for their help to staff the booth and engage festival goers in discussions about the importance of the election of our candidates. We had a great time at this event.

OSAMA

After getting nailed by Navy Seals, Osama made his way to the Pearly Gates. He was greeted there by George Washington. "How dare you attack the nation I helped conceive!" yells President Washington, slapping Osama in the face. Patrick Henry comes up next. "You wanted to end Americans' liberty, so they gave you death!" Henry punches him in the nose. President James Madison is next, and says, "This is why I allowed for the common defense!" He delivers a kick to Osama's knee. Osama is subjected to similar beatings from John Randolph of Roanoke, President James Monroe, and 67 other people who have the same love for liberty and America. Osama is writhing on the ground, and President Thomas Jefferson picks him up and hurls him back toward the golden gate where he is to be judged.

As Osama awaits his journey to his final, very hot destination, he screams out, "This is not what I was promised" An angel replies, "I told you there would be 72 Virginians waiting for you. What did you think I said?"

IT'S THE JOBS, STUPID

By Bob Evans

In June 2012, in the United States, 80,000 jobs were created, versus expectations of 100,000. It's the third monthly report of sluggish job growth, and half of those June jobs were for part-time work.

These numbers continue to underscore the dismal record of the Obama administration.

The most important part of the economy is putting Americans to work in jobs that provide the opportunity for a career so the job holder can rise to a middle class lifestyle and can fund a comfortable retirement.

This is where the Obama administration is faltering.

So, when thinking about the economy, it is time for Mitt Romney to paraphrase Bill Clinton's 1992 campaign slogan: It's the jobs, stupid.

The Obama administration has fostered the slowest post-World War II job recovery. It's been 53 months since total employment peaked in 2007 at 146,743,000 jobs, but if we continue the current rate of job growth, we won't see that level of jobs again for another 4 years. The current level of employment is 134,116,000 jobs; the Obama administration has overseen the destruction of 12,126,000 jobs.

Uncertainty, caused by the policies of the Obama administration, has created an environment where businesses are reluctant to hire. What will the true costs of Obamacare be? How will individuals and businesses change their behavior if the Bush tax cuts expire at the end of the year? What will the new regulations promulgated by the various agencies do and cost? This high level of uncertainty is the biggest impediment to job creation.

This is why the 2012 election is the most important election since 1980 when Ronald Reagan replaced the hapless Jimmy Carter and restored the American dream, not only for the citizens of the United States but for all the people of the world who had been told the Soviet Union with its planned economy was the future. Freedom won then and freedom must win again.
